Patrick Brantlinger : Crusoe's Footprints: Cultural Studies in Britain and America (Primary Socialization, Language and) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Crusoe's Footprints: Cultural Studies in Britain and America (Primary Socialization, Language and):

"Cultural Studies" has emerged in British and American higher education as a movement that challenges the traditional humanities and social science disciplines. Influenced by the New Left, feminism, and poststructuralist literary theory, cultural studies seeks to analyze everyday life and the social construction of "subjectivities." Crusoe's

Footprints encompasses the movement of many colleges and universities in the 1960s towards such interdisciplinary and "radical" programs as American Studies, Women's Studies, and Afro-American Studies. Brantlinger also examines the role of feminist criticism which has been particularly crucial in both Britain and the U.S.
