From Routledge : Cultural Encounters: Representing Otherness (Sussex Studies in Culture and Communication) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Cultural Encounters: Representing Otherness (Sussex Studies in Culture and Communication):

Cultural Encounters examines how 'otherness' has been constituted, communicated and transformed in cultural representation. Covering a diverse range of media including film, TV, advertisements, video, photographs, painting, novels, poetry, newspapers and material objects, the contributors, who include Ludmilla Jordanova and Ivan Karp, explore the cultural politics of Europe's encounters with Brazil, India, Israel, Australia and Africa, examining the ways in which visual and textual art forms operate in their treatment of cultural difference.

About the Author Elizabeth Hallam is Director of Cultural History at the University of Aberdeen. Brian Street is Professor in the School of Education at King's College, London
