

(Read ebook) New Jersey Wineries

New Jersey Wineries

Jennifer Papale Rignani

*ebooks | Download PDF | *ePub | DOC | audiobook*

Download

Read Online

#2175257 in eBooks 2008-07-07 2008-07-07 File Name: B0099GHQIK | File size: 48.Mb

Jennifer Papale Rignani : New Jersey Wineries before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised New Jersey Wineries:

0 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Great Pictures and History of NJ WineriesBy Walter DoernbachGreat Pictures and History of NJ Wineries. Totally enjoyed reading this book. Lots of great pictures and information regarding local wineries.

New Jersey, the fifth-largest wine-producing state in the country, has been making wine since 1864. While perhaps not as well known as other wine-producing states, New Jersey is home to many premier varieties. Award-winning chardonnay, syrah, marechal foch, viognier, traminette, merlot, cabernet, and dozens of others are produced in the state. Particularly unique to New Jersey wineries is an array of fruit wines, such as raspberry, cherry, and blueberry, which are exported all over the world. Because of the climate and conditions of the state, New Jersey wines are most often compared by viticulturists and enologists to the wines of France and Italy. From Cape May County up to the northernmost tip of Sussex County, New Jersey wineries offer more than 200 varieties of wine.

Publication: New Jersey Monthly
Article Title: A Gift for Wine Enthusiasts
Author: Rosie Saferstein
Date: 11/12/2008
For a holiday gift, wine enthusiasts and local history buffs will enjoy the book New Jersey Wineries by Jennifer Papale Rignani. While viewing vintage images, readers will learn that NJ wine has been produced since 1864, there are more than 40 wineries in the state, and NJ is the fifth-largest wine-producing state in the country. The book is available at local retailers, online bookstores, and through Arcadia Publishing at www.arcadiapublishing.com.
About the Author
Jennifer Papale Rignani worked with the Garden State Wine Growers for a season and quickly learned that beneath the vines were many untold stories. She is a magazine writer and news reporter who has written for many publications.