Dave Shampine : The North Country Murder of Irene Izak: Stained by Her Blood (True Crime) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The North Country Murder of Irene Izak: Stained by Her Blood (True Crime):

It was the summer of 1968, and she had been driving for days. Irene Izak, a young French teacher from Scranton, Pennsylvania, was headed toward a new job and the promise of a new life in Quebec. She never reached the border that early June morning. Savagely bludgeoned, her face and head pummeled with rocks, Irene's body was discovered in a ravine by a state trooper patrolling Route 81 in Jefferson County, New York. Blending suspense with true-crime reporting, author Dave Champine investigates the brutal murder that shook the communities of northeast Pennsylvania and New York's North Country. Join Champine as he tells the story of this vicious and confounding killing that has remained unsolved for four decades.
