

(Mobile ebook) The North End: A Brief History of Boston's Oldest Neighborhood

The North End: A Brief History of Boston's Oldest Neighborhood

Alex R. Goldfeld

*DOC | audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF | ePub

DOWNLOAD

+

READ ONLINE

#985903 in eBooks 2009-06-11 2009-06-11 File Name: B00XRFA6RM | File size: 25.Mb

Alex R. Goldfeld : The North End: A Brief History of Boston's Oldest Neighborhood before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The North End: A Brief History of Boston's Oldest Neighborhood:

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Boston's North EndBy WCI purchased the book after a trip to Boston and staying in the North End. It was interesting to read about how this area of Boston developed. It definitely would mean more to those who have been to this area.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Great read.By ErinGreat little read about the North End, has great detail without being long winded. If you're looking for a short read this is a good one.

Before evolving into a thriving "Little Italy," Boston's North End saw a tangled parade of military, religious and cultural change. Home to prominent historical figures such as Paul Revere, this neighborhood also played host to Samuel Adams and the North End Caucus--which masterminded the infamous Boston Tea Party--as well as the city's first African-American church. From the Boston Massacre to Revere's heroic ride, the North End embodies almost four centuries of strife and celebration, international influence and true American spirit. A small but storied stretch of land, the North End remains the oldest neighborhood in one of the country's most historic cities.

About the Author For nearly a decade, Alex R. Goldfeld has been creating and leading tours of Boston's historic neighborhoods, most notably the North End, Beacon Hill and Roxbury. He has conducted research and assisted in planning for local organizations, including the Nichols House Museum, the First Church in Roxbury and the Vilna Shul. Goldfeld also served as director of operations at Boston's Museum of African American History, where he oversaw the visitor experience, managed the historic sites and facilitated tours of the Black Heritage Trail. He holds a Master of Arts in History from the University of Massachusetts Boston and lives with his family in the North End.